A NIGHTMARE

Gives point to the fact that excessive or irregular eating disturbs the digestion. Nightmare or night hag has its day time correspondence in the undue fullness after eating, with the belchings and sour or bitter rising so often experienced after too hasty or too hearty eating.

Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery cures dyspepsia or bad stomach. When the weak stomach is strengthened and invigorated the whole body shares in the increased strength derived from food properly digested and perfectly assimilated.

"I was a victim of sleeplessness and extreme nervousness induced by chronic indigestion and I felt heavy, tired and worn out continually," writes Miss Mary Smith, of 1613 No. Wahsatch Street, Colorado Springs, Colo. "Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery was the only medicine which relieved me. Within a week after I began using it that heavy oppressed feeling after meals had left me, and I found that I was able to sleep better than for months previously. My appetite was gradually restored, general system was toned up, nervousness became a thing of the past and I have now been in splendid health for over nine months."

Sometimes a selfish dealer tempted by the little more profit paid on the sale of less meritorious medicines will offer the customer a substitute as being "just as good" as the "Discovery." It may be better for him because it pays better, but it is not as good for you, if you want the medicine that has cured others, and which you believe will cure you.

1000-page Doctor Book sent free on receipt of 21 one-cent stamps to cover postage only. 21 stamps for cloth-bound copy. Formerly sold for $1.50 to extent of over 500,000 copies. Every family should possess a copy for ready reference in case of sudden illness or accident. It is illustrated with hundreds of wood-cuts and several colored plates. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

A WOMAN TO BE PRETTY

Must Have Luxuriant and Glossy Hair, No Matter What Color.

The finest contour of a female face, the sweetest smile of a female mouth, loses something if the head is crowned with scant hair. Scant and falling hair, it is now known, is caused by a parasite that burrows into the scalp to the root of the hair, where it saps the vitality. The little white scales the germ throws up in burrowing are called dandruff. To cure dandruff permanently, then, and to stop falling hair, that germ must be killed. Newbro's Herpicide, an entirely new result of the chemical laboratory, destroys the dandruff germ, and, of course, stops the falling hair, and prevents baldness. Sold by leading druggists. Send 10c. in stamps for sample to The Herpicide Co., Detroit, Mich.

HAMLINS

Applied externally, it relieves the pain at once. Taken internally, it cures permanently by purifying the blood of the lactic acid which causes the disease.

Anthony Smith, of Mayville, Ill., says: "I had such severe rheumatic pains in my arm and shoulder that I could neither work nor sleep and was fast losing all hope of cure, when I heard of and tried Hamlins Wizard Oil, two bottles of which performed a perfect, permanent cure." Cut by Rejected Lover.

In the short space of an hour yesterday afternoon Margherita Auletta, a young Italian woman, who was cut with a razor by a jealous lover, appeared against him in the Tombs Police Court, in New York, and was married to his rival. She was so badly slashed about the neck and face that only for prompt attention she would have bled to death. She was married to the man of her choice with her face so covered with bandages that there was hardly enough of it left for her bridegroom to kiss her.

The cutting took place on the steps of the City Hall just as the bridal party was entering to find an Alderman to marry the girl to her sweetheart. The man who did the cutting was Angelo Pastore, a barber, 20 years old. He was at one time a sweetheart of Margherita's, but she threw him over some weeks ago and transferred her affections to Rocco Temare. She promised to marry the latter and the wedding was fixed for yesterday.

Shortly after 1 o'clock the woman reached the City Hall with the groom and half a dozen friends. They had begun to climb the steps when Pastore, darting from behind, caught the woman by the shoulders and slashed her face twice with a razor. He evidently intended to cut her throat, as the attack was made and finished so quickly that before the woman's friends seemed to be aware of what had happened Pastore was on the run across City Hall Park, heading for Broadway. He was arrested, however, and an ambulance surgeon fixed the woman up.

When Pastore was brought before the police sergeant he said that the woman had been his sweetheart and, according to Italian ethics, he wanted to disfigure her for life for transferring her affections. In court he was held in $5,000 for trial. The woman appeared against him. After Pastore had been taken back to the cells Rocco Temare, the man Miss Auletta set out to marry, suggested that they should go back to the city hall and be wedded.

"Do you want to marry me, now that I have been cut so and will look so ugly ?" the young woman asked him in Italian.

The court interpreter says that Rocco answered "Yes, I want to marry you now more than ever. I want to help you to get well and to look after you."

Margherita cried a little, but consented to the pleadings of her lover, and they went back together to the city hall.

There an alderman married them. Then the bride, with her husband's arm around her and surrounded by her excited friends, walked slowly across the City Hall Park and took a Third avenue car to her home.

Fell from a Balloon.

A dispatch from Anderson, S. C., says: Mrs. Maude Broadwick, wife of Charles Broadwick, an aeronaut, fell from a balloon here yesterday afternoon and was instantly killed. Mrs. Broadwick was an experienced balloonist herself and had made two ascensions while here, but was not to go up yesterday afternoon. Her husband was to make the ascension and parachute drop, and she was standing by to give the signal to cut the ropes when all was ready. She gave the signal all right, and when the balloon shot up into the air she was seen hanging to the ropes between the balloon and the parachute. After she had reached a distance of 200 or 300 feet she dropped to the earth, striking on the hard ground, and was instantly killed. The balloon went straight up into the air, and she fell within a few feet of the spot from which she started. A crowd of possibly 1,000 persons witnessed the tragedy. Broadwick, who was fastened into the parachute with a belt, went on some distance higher, and then cut loose and descended in safety. Most of the carnival people are inclined to the opinion that Mrs. Broadwick's death was due to suicide rather than an accident. They say Broadwick and his wife had been quarreling for a week or more, and this, together with the fact that she was an experienced aeronaut, and there were no projecting ropes about the balloon harness liable to entangle a person lead them to the suicide theory. Broadwick admits that he and his wife had quarreled, but says they had made up, as they had done before. He says that she knew all about balloons, and that he does not see how she could have become accidently entangled in the ropes. He has been in the balloon business fifteen years and says his wife had been in the business eight years and that she was quite as expert as himself. He says that when she fell she called to him to catch her and that he could not do so. He thinks it was an accident and not suicide.

Terrific Race With Death.

"Death was fast approaching," writes Ralph F. Fernandez, of Tampa, Fla., describing his fearful race with death, "as a result of liver trouble and heart disease, which had robbed me of sleep and of all interest in life. I had tried many different doctors and several medicines, but got no benefit, until I began to use Electric Bitters. So wonderful was their effect, that in three days I felt like a new man, and today I am cured of all my troubles." Guaranteed at E. S. Leadbeater & Sons' drug store; price 50c.

Nervous Women

Their Sufferings Are Usually Due to Uterine Disorders Perhaps Unsuspected

A MEDICINE THAT CURES

Mrs. M. E. Shotwell

Can we dispute the well-known fact that American women are nervous?

How often do we hear the expression, "I am so nervous, it seems as if I should fly;" or, "Don't speak to me." Little things annoy you and make you irritable; you can't sleep, you are unable to quietly and calmly perform your daily tasks or care for your children.

The relation of the nerves and generative organs in women is so close that nine-tenths of the nervous prostration, nervous debility, the blues, sleeplessness and nervous irritability arise from some derangement of the organism which makes her a woman. Fits of depression or restlessness and irritability. Spirits easily affected, so that one minute she laughs, the next minute weeps. Pain in the ovaries and between the shoulders. Loss of voice; nervous dyspepsia. A tendency to cry at the least provocation. All this points to nervous prostration.

Nothing will relieve this distressing condition and prevent months of prostration and suffering so surely as Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Mrs. M. E. Shotwell, of 103 Flatbush Avenue, Brooklyn, N. Y., writes:

"I cannot express the wonderful relief I have experienced by taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I suffered for a long time with nervous prostration, backache, headache, loss of appetite. I could not sleep and would walk the floor almost every night.

"I had three doctors and got no better, and life was a burden. I was advised to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and it has worked wonders for me.

"I am a well woman, my nervousness is all gone and my friends say I look ten years younger."

Will not the volumes of letters from women made strong by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound convince all women of its virtues? Surely you cannot wish to remain sick and weak and discouraged, exhausted each day, when you can be as easily cured as other women.

Married 10, Divorced 8.

A case has been brought to the attention of Colonel Warner, Commissoner of Pensions, which presents some peculiar features. A civil war soldier, aged 65 years, from a western State, has filed an application for pension, and in reply to the usual circular calling upon him for a statement of his marital affairs he sent in the following statement:

He was divored from his first wife in 1868, remarried December 7, 1868, and divorced in 1873; remarried October 12, 1875, and divorced January 18, 1879; remarried July 4, 1879, and divorced December 19, 1881; remarried August 20, 1882, and divorced June 10, 1885; remarried November 24, 1886, and divorced December 19, 1890; remarried December 31, 1890, and divorced February 13, 1896; remarried July 2, 1897, and wife died May 17, 1898; remarried August 2?, 1898, and divorced April 4, 1899; remarried October 25, 1899.

From this statement it is shown that he married 10 different women, and was divorced from eight of them

Herb W. Edwards Injured.

Herb W. Edwards, of Des Moines, Iowa, got a fall on an icy walk last winter, spraining his wrist and bruising his knees. "The next day," he says, "they were so sore and stiff I was afraid I would have to stay in bed, but I rubbed them well with Chamberlain's Pain Balm and after a few applications all soreness had disappeared. I feel that this bottle of Pain Balm saved me several days' time, to say nothing of the suffering." This liniment is for sale by Gibson & Timberman and W. F. Creighton & Co.

FRIDAY EVENING, NOV. 3, 1905.

DISPATCHES from different points in Russia show that 5,403 persons were slain during the past two days' reign of terror which is prevailing in many quarters of the Czar's domains. The officials have labored assiduously to prepare what they call a constitution, but it seems to prove unsatisfactory to the discontented elements who aver that it is ambiguous and that by it the Czar's autocracy is in no wise abridged. The premier, under the instrument, is compelled to receive all his instructions from the Czar. The recent massacres of Jews, it is said, were greater than those of Kishineff. The Israelite is the target in most national tumults, and he seems destined to wander upon the earth until the end of time. Driven from country to country, the race is inhabiting all climes, and those whose lot has been cast in Russia will soon become itinerants and spread toward other points of the compass. It seems strange that a country like Russia, with its State religion, its extensive evangelical establishment of patriarchs and priests and professing the faith enunciated by the Great Teacher, should manifest such ferocity toward the race out of whom has come all they hold sacred. They seem to take few hints from history. While the God of Israel has often been unsparing in the use of the rod toward the people of his choice, nations who have attempted to eliminate the stock of Israel have almost invariably dug their own graves. Egypt attempted it to her sorrow, and Haman fell into a pit he had prepared for the descendants of Abraham. What has happened before is liable to occur again. The Babylonians sacked Jerusalem and carried the chosen people into captivity, and the act was repeated by the Romans centuries later. Both of these powerful nations of antiquity faded away, but the persecuted race, like the bush which Moses approached, burns but it never consumes. The Muscovite should profit by the history of the past.

AMONG the representatives of the people to be chosen next Tuesday is a Delegate from Alexandria city and county to the Legislature of Virginia. A majority of voters at last August's primary election selected Mr. James R. Caton, who has been a faithful and efficient representative for several years past, to succeed himself. There is no doubt that the nomination will be confirmed by a handsome majority at the general election. Mr. J. B. Henderson, of Alexandria county, has been selected by the republicans as their candidate for the position. With no purpose to say aught against the gentleman of their choice, it is suggested that this is no time to place an inexperienced man in the Legislature, as, should the unlikely occur, he would enter that body as a novice and would have much to learn. As to his efficiency, he would never be able to rise above the standard acquired by Mr. Caton, who is recognized as one of the most capable and energetic men in the General Assembly. At the present time it is of vital importance that Alexandria should have a representative at Richmond who is personally interested in this district and who is thoroughly familiar with its want and what is reasonably due it. Every democrat in the city and county is earnestly urged to take the trouble to vote and see that Mr. Caton rolls up a large majority. Alexandria has arrived at a point in her history when advantage should be taken of the conditions which surround her. To leave anything undone would be fatal. The city's interests are at stake, and there are more than enough democrats here to keep the right man in the right place. Let all see that it is done.

AS SOON as the government succeeds in having all rates made equitable and the Interstate Commerce Commission re-populates the arid wastes made desolate by present railroad methods and all news is made to travel in a few chosen channels from the fountain head to the editorial room, many think there is one more thing which should be done, and this is more important than all the others. Why not have a national banking system whereby a gentleman can borrow money without the use of collateral?

MR. C. BASCOM SLEMP, the republican State chairman, in reply yesterday to a request for a forecast of the election from his standpoint, replied that he had not made any public statements of the probable result of the campaign, and did not deem it wise to do so now. Of course not. Mr. Slemp has some regard for the truth and knows as well as anyone else that the democrats will sweep the State next Tuesday, but for him to admit that just before the election would be bad politics.

THE circular sent out by the republican State chairman, Bascom C. Slemp, to the few democrats in the State holding federal office, warning them not to take part in the approaching election, amounts to sheer arrogance and impudence, when it is remembered that every republican office holder whom he can influence is now neglecting the work for which he is paid, in order to be on the stump in the interest of the republican State ticket. Besides this, Mr. Slemp has sent out other circulars soliciting contributions from officeholders in aid of his campaign fund. If the civil service rules were enforced, Mr. Slemp would be in trouble.

From Washington.

[Correspondence of the Alexandria Gazette.]

Washington, D. C., Nov. 3.

U. S. Minister Rockhill at Pekin telegraphed the State Department today that he had just been informed by the foreign office of an attack on October 28 by a mob upon the American Presbyterian Mission station at Lienshou in the province of Kwang-tung in which the mission was destroyed and that the missionaries were killed. Mr. Rockhill is informed that the attack resulted from the refusal of the missionaries to permit the firing of cannon by the villagers during a festival. He asks further details from the foreign office.

Although, under the new orders of the President, no news was given out about today's deliberations of the Cabinet. It is assumed that one of the principal subjects discussed was the massacre of American missionaries in China. Further advices from Minister Rockhill are anxiously awaited by the State Department. The President is especially desirous of learning to what extent the Chinese officials were culpable in the matter. Vigorous representations will be made to the government at Pekin for reparation, punishment of those guilty, and the carrying out of the assurances of protection in the future for missionaries in general throughout the Empire. Whether any further steps will be taken by this government will depend upon the circumstances attending the affair at Lienchou, concerning which Minister Rockhill has promised to send a detailed reporter. According to his first report the Emperor has ordered full reparation to be made and proper punishment to be inflicted upon the guilty.

John F. Wallace, who was dismissed from his position as chief engineer of the Panama Canal by Secretary Taft, answered a number of questions today propounded by the board of consulting engineers of the canal. Mr. Wallace favors a sea-level canal provided it can be constructed within a reasonable time and at reasonable coast, the work to be done under contract.

According to a dispatch received this morning from Spencer Eddy, charge d'affaires at St. Petersburg for the United States, that city has been quiet during the past 24 hours, but the situation remains unchanged.

Through the efforts of the Agriculture Department, the particular variety of apples which Queen Victoria used to import from Virginia to her palace has been saved from the bitter-rot which had been making deep inroads into the crop Experts of the department have reported that experiments made by them in the orchards at Avon, Va., where this variety is raised, show that by spraying the trees while the leaves are still in the bud the rot can be prevented. One orchard not treated this way did not have a sound apple when picking time arrived, September 20.

President Roosevelt will go home to Oyster Bay to vote, in company with Secretary Loeb and the usual following of secret service guards. The President will leave Washington on a late train Monday night and expects to reach Oyster Bay shortly after nine on election morning. Were it not for the principle of the thing, it is not probable that the President would take the trouble to vote this fall. There are no important State officers to be chosen and the county and township candidates are not stirring up much enthusiasm among the voters. In all probability the township o Oyster Bay and county of Nassau will both go democratic on local issues this fall. As soon as he casts his ballot he will take train for the return trip and is scheduled to reach Washington shortly after four o'clock in the afternoon.

The President has designated his brother-in-law, Capt. W. S. Cowles, to resume his former duties as naval aide to the President.

Vice President Fairbanks paid a visit to the White House this morning and was in consultation with President Roosevelt for about half an hour. "There is nothing of significence in my call this morning," said the Vice President after his talk with the President. "I will remain in Washington today and tomorrow and will then return to Indianapolis."

The President today appointed Laurence H. Graham, of New York city, Commissioner of the Interior for Porto Rico, vice John S. Elliott, resigned.

The Armour car line hurled defiance at the Interstate Commerce Commission today. Through their attorney, A. F. Reichman, they denied the jurisdiction of the Commission over the "private affairs"; refused to permit their president, George B. Robbins of Chicago, to answer questions propounded; protested against the dilatoriness of the inquiry inaugurated, charged that it was moved by political powers and declared that the matter would be taken for jurisdiction before a "proper tribunal."

The Treasury Department has received no advices confirming the report that 11 whaling vessels are imprisoned in the ice in Bering sea, and that the members of the crews, aggregating 450 men, are threatened with death from exposure and starvation.

Commissioner James R. Garfield, of the bureau of corporations of the Department of Commerce and Labor, declines to discuss with representatives of the press the plea of certain Chicago packers under indictment in connection with the so-called "beef trust" that he promised them immunity against prosecution if they would divulge the facts of the business to him when making his investigation. "If that plea is made, the Department of Justice will doubtless call upon this bureau," said Mr Garfield," for the facts in the case. It would not be proper for me to make public the facts in view of this possibility." The commissioner continued to say that the plea is frequently made and pointed to one case in the Interstate Commerce record where the contention of the defendant was sustained because of immunity given from furnishing facts during a previous investigation.

So great with number have become the anti-trust cases before the Department of Justice, and so onerous the duties in connection therewith, that the Attorney General has found it necessary to relieve Assistant Attorney General Purdy of all other cases so that he may devote his entire attention upon all cases involving violations of anti-trust laws. The criminal cases have been assigned to Assistant Attorney General Robb, and include those arising from violations of laws relative to naturalization, immigration, Chinese exclusion, internal revenue and peonage.

Today being the anniversary of the declaration of independence of the Republic of Panama was celebrated with rejoicings at the legation of Panama in this city. Minister Obaldia received a great number of congratulatory telegrams upon the advent from personal and official friends.

Ten temporary clerks for the Brooklyn postoffice were authorized by the Postoffice Department today. Their need was accentuated by the tying up of the pneumatic tube service Their appointment may later be made permanent.

News of the Day.

The Venezuelan government has suspended the dispatch of cablemessages to the United States, France and England.

The Norwegian government has recommended the people to vote for a monarchical form of government based on the British and Italian constitutions.

Prince Louis of Battenberg announced that he will visit Baltimore next Tuesday. He witnessed a review of the midshipmen of Annapolis yesterday and was the guest at two social affairs.

A left to the body, followed by a hard right to the solar plexus and Tommy Daly rolled on the canvas, knocked out in the eighth round by the doughty Kid Sullivan, of Washington. It was a pretty conclusion of an interesting bout which was scheduled to go 15 rounds last night before the Eureka Athletic Club at Germania Mænnerchor Hall, Baltimore.

Hundreds of people saw Peter Peterson fall from the dome of the new Christian Science building in Boston a distance of 135 feet, yesterday afternoon. He was instantly killed. Peterson was at work on the topmost staging at the very apex of the dome. Evidently he made a misstep, for the workmen who heard his cries saw him clutch wildly at the edge of the staging and turn over and over in his flight to the street. He struck on his side, and every bone in his body was broken.

Judge Morris, at Toledo, Ohio, in Common Pleas Court, yesterday overruled a motion made by the Central Labor Union and the Typographical Union to dissolve or modify the injunction restraining union men from picketing job offices in which printers are on strike. Judge Morris holds there is a conspiracy among members of organized labor to boycott and injure the business of the firms, and in every particular the Court's decision was against the unions.

The injunction asked for to prevent the Supreme council of the Royal Arcanum from putting into effect the rates adopted at the Atlantic City meeting and later ratified at Put-in-Bay, Ohio, was denied by Federal Judge Clark, of Nashville, Tenn., yesterday and the bill of the complainants dismissed. The court held that it was not sufficiently clear, under the law of Massachusetts, in which State the order was incorporated, that this plan of assessment and the effect on members impair the obligation of the contract, and until it did so appear, obviously his court should not interfere.

President H. St. George Tucker, of the Jamestown Exposition Company, will sail from New York next Tuesday, and will be away several weeks in the interest of the tercentennial.

Mrs Bettie Lefore, widow of Frank Lefore, died Wednesday night at her home in Caroline county after a brief illness, aged about 50 years. She was a daughter of the late Robert Catlett, of Caroline county.

Grounds for the proposed Jefferson Davis monument, on Monument avenue, Richmond, will be broken next Tuesday, and then will begin the actual construction of the splendid memorial to the President of the Confederacy.

William Lewis, a negro trusty at the State penitentiary, yesterday made a sensational escape from the new steel building. By the use of a small ladder the negro gained the roof, cut his way out at the top, and swung over the cornice of the building by means of a rope made of many sheets. The other convicts were at breakfast at the time, and the absence of Lewis was not noticed.

Mrs. Ryan, formerly of Virginia, now of New York, has just given $10,000 to erect a Catholic school building at Falls Church. The work will be commenced at once and the structure will be located on the land recently acquired near the new Catholic church. Mrs. Ryan donated the funds to erect the handsome stone church completed two years ago. Father Tierney is the present pastor of this church and is exceedingly popular with all classes of people. His pastoral duties have increased to such an extent as to require the services of an assistant. The church has a membership of over 300.

Grinds up Human Grist.

Bellefonte, Pa., Nov. 3.—Ambrose, the 21-year-old son of Amos Gill, of near Pleasant Gap, met a horrible death yesterday. He was assisting Henry Gentzel with his threshing, and while walking across the overhead loft over the barn floor stepped on a loose board, which tilted. He plunged through, headforemost, right into the mouth of the threshing machine and the swiftly-revolving cylinder. A couple of the spikes were driven two inches deep into his head, while his right arm and most of his right side were ground into shreds. Death was instantaneous.

Mrs. James Brown Potter.

London, Nov. 3.—The hearing of the application of Mrs. James Brown Potter, the American actress, for a discharge in bankruptcy has been adjourned until December 15, on account of the protests made by her creditors. The receiver named by the bankruptcy court to take charge of her affairs, reported that her debts reached 11,108 pounds while the the assets which Mrs. Potter valued at 10,957 pounds only realized 1,142 pounds. Mrs. Potter's salary during the last few years averaged between 3,000 and 5,000 pounds annually.

RUSSIA'S CONSTITUTION.

The imperial decree creating the cabinet ministers under imperial manifesto granting a constitution to Russia was gazetted in St. Petersburg yesterday morning, and has already aroused criticism, as the machinery is extremely complicated, and smacks of the old-fashioned bureaucratic regime. The relation of the Cabinet to the council of the empire or upper chamber and the imperial douma or popular chamber are not clear, because the powers of these bodies are yet to be defined under the manifesto.

Two features are especially unsatisfactory. While the Cabinet has no authority to decide matters within the competency of the legislative bodies, no measure of "general importance" can be introduced into the chambers without the consent of the Cabinet, and another provision requires that when the Cabinet is unanimous the premier must go to the emperor and receive instructions. This would seem to make the final authority go back to the emperor.

Moreover, all questions affecting the imparial court and domains, the army and navy, and foreign affairs are specifically excluded from the competency of the cabinet without direct imperial authority. By implication, these great questions, in which the nation is vitally interested, are also outside the competency of the legislature, and, therefore, are bound to prove unsatisfactory to the people when they assemble.

Nothing is said in the decree about the premier or ministers being responsible to the national assembly, or responding to interpellations, but care is taken to consolidate the power in the hands of the premier, or, as he is termed, president of the Cabinet, and especially to prevent an individual minister from going to the Emperor with a report without previously submitting it to the premier. Should the premier not approve of a report he has the privilege of being present when the minister presents it to the Emperor, and of stating his objections. This provision is designed to put an end to the practice of one minister undermining another, which has been one of the most vicious features of the old regime and the cause of untold confusion.

The council of the workingmen's delegates at midnight issued a notice pointing out the necessity of arming workers for a decisive struggle for the convocation of a constituent assembly, based on universal suffrage, with a view to the formation of a democratic republic.

The council decided to suspend the political strike at noon, but on the condition that it be resumed if their demands were not granted. The council decided also that newspapers may appear whose editors will entirely ignore the censorship. Compositors have refused to work except under this condition, and newspapers not complying with it will be confiscated, their presses destroyed and their workmen boycotted.

The railway men's union, however, has decided to continue the strike, mainly through a desire to prevent the transport of troops to Finland.

The union of unions has resolved to demand complete amnesty for political prisoners, the immediate withdrawal of troops from St. Petersburg and their replacement by militia drawn from the people.

The situation in Odessa was almost indescribable, troops and "loyalists" murdering and pillaging everywhere.

Jewish residents were made an especial mark, many being killed or wounded.

Shots fired from the balconies of three houses, presumably by policemen in disguise, led to an attack by soldiers, who killed every one in the houses.

A correspondent of a London paper declares fully 5,000 persons were killed or wounded in Odessa, "the Kischeneff horror being repeated a hundredfold."

The situation in Warsaw is unimproved. Troops are still firing upon patriotic paraders. Thirty persons were killed in Warsaw on Wednesday.

While a party of Russian Jews at Vyazma were celebrating the gift of a constitution they were attacked by a mob, who sacked their shops and residences, committing horrible atrocities.

New York Politics.

New York, Nov. 3.—The municipal campaign will practically close tomorrow night, and the candidates for the various offices and their supporters are working like trojans for success. Almost countless meetings and torchlight processions have been arranged for tonight and tomorrow night in the five boroughs and tons of red fire will be burned.

McClellan, Ivins and Hearst, the mayoralty candidates, say they are confident of election, and the supporters of Jerome believe that the District Attorney will win out.

Tammany Hall figures for Manhattan and the Bronx, just made public, give McClellan 159,000; Ivins, 85,000 and Hearst, 70,000. The municipal ownership league asserts that it has polls showing that its ticket would poll 300,000 votes in the city, and that Mayor McClellan would be third in the race. The republicans have not as yet given out any figures.

As a result of the decision of the appellate court, declining to place District Attorney Jerome's name on the ticket, the betting on Jerome changed, the odds being 5 to 3, against 2 to 1 on Wednesday. The betting on McClellan still continues at 2½ to 1, and 3 to 1.

Four Riders Injured.

The Grafton hounds were taken out yesterday morning at Upperville, and again, as Wednesday, when the Middlesex pack was run, the day proved a "blank." There was little or no scent. Four falls occurred. Westmoreland Davis, of Leesburg, in riding his Irish hunter over a high stone wall came to grief on landing, but escaped with a few bruises and cuts. L. D. Ahl and Malbon Richardson, both of Boston, in performing over a stone wall fell victims to a drop on the blind side and came croppers, however, without any serious injury. Miss Terry Dulany, in negotiating a wire fence, fell, but was up quickly and away again.

Rioting in Vienna.

Vienna, Nov. 3.—The investigation today of last night's rioting following the meeting of socialists in behalf of universal suffrage shows that over 100 persons were injured by the police in dispersing the crowd. The leading socialist paper, the Arbieter Zeitung, was confiscated today, and the edition not allowed to leave the office. Socialist demonstrations are reported to have occurred at Prague and other provincial centres.

Today's Telegraphic News

CONDITIONS IN RUSSIA.

St. Petersburg, Nov. 3.—The first act of the government under the new regime, promised by the Czar's proclamation, will probably be the issuing of a decree granting liberty of the press. It is expected that this decree will be given out today. The newspapers have already been informed that the censorship which has prohibited them from entering into a general discussion of events, has been abrogated.

It now seems probable that the ukase granting amnesty to political offenders who are prisoners in the various fortresses and prisons, and exiles from home will not be issued until December 1. When it is granted 20,000 political exiles will be allowed to return to their homes.

The Grand Duke Alexander Michaelovitch has resigned as Director General of the merchant marine.

An official telegram from Sevastopol announces that Admiral Birileff who was reported to have been slain by mutineer sailors of the Black Sea fleet, has arrived there safely with the fleet.

Advices from Odessa Monday stated that it was persistently rumored that there had been a general mutiny of the present crew of the Black Sea fleet, and that Admirals Birileff and Choukin had been killed by the mutineers.

St. Petersburg, Nov. 3—An official announcement was issued today stating that only five persons were killed and twelve wounded in Tuesdays disturbances.

Odessa, Russia, Nov. 3.—An inferno raged in this city throughout the night, and continued through the early hours of the morning. No other word will properly describe the awful scenes witnessed here during the last fifteen hours. Conditions beggar description. Drunken mobs have run riot in the streets, behaving like packs of wild beasts toward the Jews. Although martial law was declared yesterday, and theoretically continues in effect, the troops during the night and early today did nothing to prevent the sacking of the Jewish quarters and the work of pillage begun Wednesday evening continued unchecked. This riot of bloodshed and robbery has continued now for over forty-eight hours. The troops have contented themselves with preventing the mobs from pillaging the homes and shops of Christians, none of which as yet has been harmed. General Kaulbars the military commander, by his inactivity, has earned the detestation of everyone in the city. He seems to be carried away by a desire to show them that there is more of evil than of good in revolutions and so allowing the mob almost full sway. Street fighting continued this morning in many districts. The students are throwing their lives away uselessly in an attempt to subdue the mobs. Their efforts in this direction have caused the Cossacks to attack them as rioters.

The hospitals cannot accommodate all the wounded and many houses are being turned into temporary infirmaries where the injured are cared for. The streets are not safe. Newspaper correspondents risk their lives every time they venture to the telegraph offices to file their messages. It is estimated that fully 5,000 persons have been killed and wounded during the rioting. This afternoon the situation became somewhat improved. Order was practically restored in the centre of the city, but there was little improvement in conditions in the Jewish quarters. No attempts were made to resume business. Advices received today indicate that rioting is being kept up in other cities of the empire as well as in Odessa. Nikolaieff has been the scene of anti-semitic outrages, although not on as large a scale as here. Jewish quarters of that town have been almost wiped out, however. Reports from other places state that there have been outbreaks today Three hundred shops and houses of Jews were destroyed in the suburbs of Odessa yesterday.

Order has been restored in the centre of the city since the military has assumed active operations in putting down the rioting. It is still impossible, however, to resume business. The Jewish quarters of the city, which were the scene of so much bloodshed during the attacks made by Hooligans on Hebrews, are still far from safe.

Warsaw, Poland, Nov. 3, 2:15 p. m.—It is reported that Colonel Meyer, the chief of police, has fled from the city disguised as a woman, because he feared that the people would revenge themselves upon him for Wednesday's massacre.

Bicharest, Roumania, Nov. 3.—News received here from Kishineff, Russia, tells of the disorders which have occurred there. While a thanksgiving service was being held to celebrate the Czar's manifesto, the criminal classes took advantage of the opportunity offered them to indulge in riots during the attendance of the masses of the respectable citizens at the demonstrations. Bent upon murder and wreaking the greatest possible damage to property, the roughs attacked the synagogues, pharmacies, hospitals and shops of tradesmen. Many of the buildings were destroyed and others were badly damaged. The authorities made no attempt to suppress the disorders and the troops stood idly by while the mob accomplished its work of destruction. Eight persons are known to have perished and hundreds were wounded.

Odessa, Nov. 3.—3 p. m.—The lull in the disorders which came this afternoon was only temporary and fresh disturbances are now in progress. The people are firing on Cossacks in the streets from the house tops, and a number of persons, including one staff officer, have been killed by this fire during the day. The military is threatening to use the machine guns which were placed in position yesterday, with great show, but as yet they have not done so. Cossacks charged on the students this afternoon near the cathedral killing and wounding seventeen. Two companies of infantry joined the looting mobs, but most of these soldiers have been arrested, and are now confined to the barracks.

London, Nov. 3.—A despatch to the Evening News from Holsingfors, Finland, says that the situation there is critical because of the attitude the socialists have assumed. The leaders of this party desire to pursue a violent course of action toward Russia. They are unwilling to accept the calling together of the diet as sufficient concession from the Russian government and now demand that Finland shall be granted a national assembly.

The Prince in Washington.

Washington, Nov. 3.—Formal welcome to the nation's capital was extended this morning to Prince Louis of Battenberg and the officers of his squadron by a delegation of high ranking officers of the army and navy of the United States. The prince and his entourage arrived on a special train from Annapolis shortly before noon today, accompanied by Rear Admiral Evans. At the station to meet them was also Sir Mortimer Durand, the British Ambassador. Immediately after the exchange of greetings, the prince and his staff were driven to the British embassy for luncheon.

Several hundred people were waiting for the prince to arrive, but no demonstration was made when he appeared on the rear platform of his car, nor when he was driven out of the depot by the gazing crowd to New Jersey avenue. Assistant Secretary of State Bacon, followed by the White House attaches, Lieut. Commander Key, U. S. N., and Col Bromwell, U. S. A., and four naval officers, boarded the prince's car and were introduced to the party by Rear Admiral Evans, who came on the train from Annapolis. The party at once took carriages and drove rapidly to the British Embassy.

This afternoon the prince and the officers who accompanied him to America, were received by the President at the White House, the introductions being made by the British Ambassador. A notable feature of this function was the presentation by the prince of a personal letter to the President from King Edward. Although the contents of the letter are not known, it is surmised that besides conveying general expressions of good will, the communication records the gratification felt by his majesty over the happy termination of the Russo-Japanese war as a result of President Roosevelt's efforts.

The prince will remain in Washington over Sunday. During his visit here he will be elaborately entertained by both this government and by his own through the medium of the British Ambassador. There will be a dinner at the Embassy tonight, followed by a general reception and dance. Tomorrow's programme includes a drive about the city, luncheon at the New Willard by Lieut. Gen. Chaffee, a visit to Fort Myer, where a special cavalry drill will be held, and in the evening a dinner at the White House, where the prince will have the opportunity of meeting all the high officials of the government.

On Sunday there will probably be a trip to the tomb of Washington at Mount Vernon. On Monday the prince will return to his squadron at Annapolis.

Political.

[Special Dispatch to the Alexandria Gazette.]

Richmond, Va., Nov. 3.—The party managers are closing up the democratic headquarters today and are preparing to go home to vote. Mayor McCarthy, whose ability as a campaign orator has just come to light, is being pressed into service, and he will make two more speeches. Secretary Button has secured reduced rates on the Norfolk & Western Railroad and will send the college students and others from that section home to vote.

The Dress Suit Case Mystery.

New York, Nov. 3.—Louis Crawford, alias Albert Emory, theatrical agent, and William Howard, alias William Hant, who were arrested here yesterday in connection with the dress suit mystery, were positively identified at police headquarters here today by Cabman Howard, of Boston, as the men he had taken to the ferry in Boston, and Crawford, alias Emory, was identified by Pawnbroker Joseph Berkman as the man to whom he sold the dress suit case. Chief of Police Watts, of Boston, after a conference with the local detectives admitted that Howard had made a confession admitting that he had a hand in disposing of the body, but denied that he had any connection with the dismemberment of the body. Chief Watts says that other arrests will follow, and that he knows who dismembered the body. The prisoners were taken to the Centre street court, for arraignment.

The mystery surrounding the murder of Susan Geary, the chorus girl, whose dismembered body with the exception of the head, was found in two dress suit cases, floating in Boston harbor, is rapidly being cleared up. Within the next twenty four hours, the police of Boston, hope to be able to arrest the person who dismembered the body.

Louis Crawford and William Howard, who were arrested here last night, were arraigned in the Center Street court this morning, and remanded back to police headquarters until Monday for further examination. The men were held without bail.

Advises Suits.

Berlin, Nov. 3.—The Koelinsche Zeitung today advises German policy holders in the New York Life Insurance Company to seek to recover the money paid by them to the company. The paper declares that the revelations made in regard to the company's methods show that it has violated the insurance law of Germany and that as a consequence all German clients of the company are entitled to demand repayment for all money paid it since December 31, 1901. The paper advises the clients of the company to institute civil suits to recover the money.

Mikado Celebrates Birthday.

Tokio, Nov. 3.—The Mikado celebrated his 53rd birthday today and entertained, among others, the diplomatic representatives of all the powers represented at the Japanese court. The emperor drank to the health of all foreign rulers and expressed his satisfaction on account of the restoration of peace.

The Belgian Minister replied for the diplomatists, saying: "The entire world experienced immense joy and relief at the news of the end of the war, and applauded the peace by which your majesty, inspired by the loftiest sentiments of humanity, added such a beautiful page to the glorious history of your reign.

13-Year-Old Girl Dies on Childbed.

Two deaths of child mothers under the Cæsarean operation have occurred within a few months, in New York, the last victim being Rosie Schumacker, 13 years old, who died Wednesday night at the home of her stepfather and mother, Mr. and Mrs. George Walkerm, in Brooklyn. Joshua Williams, a motorman, who, the police declare, is also known by the name of George Pierce, was yesterday held for examination in the Gates avenue police court, on his plea of not guilty to a charge of abducting Rosie, who accused him in a statement to the coroner before her death. According to the police report, the operation was performed as the only hope of saving the girl's life, and with the full knowledge of the mother and stepfather of the child. The police say that Williams was one of the stepfather's closest friends. He is 41 years old and is married.

Horrors of Odessa.

A dispatch to a London news agency from Odessa says that martial law was declared there yesterday afternoon. The whole garrison has turned out and now occupies the city. Police control has also been re-established. All citizens are forbidden to leave their houses after 9 o'clock in the evening, at which hour all lights must be out. Maxim guns have been placed in positions commanding a hundred streets.

The Standard's correspondent at Odessa says: "Within three hours of the declaration of martial law, which came to the unspeakable relief of peaceable citizens, no fewer than 5,000 ruffian loyalists had been disarmed by the students and the military. How some 50,000 artisan rowdies became possessed of revolvers and abundance of cartridges is another question requiring solution."

A dispatch to the London Evening Standard from Odessa, timed 2:30 p. m. yesterday says: "The city rings with the reports of rifles and revolvers, and occasionally a volley is fired. Every house and tenement is bolted and barred. The infantry patrols are doing their duty perfunctorily, declining to fire on the mobs unless they themselves are attacked. The Cossacks are said to have lost over a hundred men by bombs and shots from windows. Cossack patrols carry carbines and have their fingers on the triggers. The streets are absolutely unsafe for civilians. The casualties yesterday are believed to have amounted to 5,000 killed and wounded. In the Jewish quarter bodies still strew the streets and sidewalks. Jewish women and children were strangled and hacked to pieces in the streets where the mob gained the upper hand. A Red Cross doctor tells me that the Kishenef horrors were repeated a hundredfold. The students alone saved the city from wholesale sack and massacre. Twenty-six carts full of wounded have just passed by my door. The sound of firing is again moving westward toward the Jewish quarters. The mobs swear they will not leave a single Jew alive."

Every Ounce You Eat.

Every ounce of food you eat that fails to digest does a pound of harm. It turns the entire meal into poison. This not only deprives the blood of the necessary tissue-building material, but it poisons it. Kodol Dyspepsia Cure is a perfect digestant. It digests the food regardless of the condition of the stomach. It allows that organ to rest and get strong again. Relieves Belching, Heart Burn, Sour Stomach, Indigestion, Palpitation of the Heart, etc. Sold by W. F. Creighton & Co., 401 King str et.

Marches Him by the Ear.

Scranton, Pa., Nov. 3.—John Cross, of North Scranton, bent on deserting his wife, as heretofore, was yesterday sent to prison, and all because she watched him and caught him by the ear at the railroad station, then marched him thus up Lackawana avenue three blocks, to Alderman Howe's office. There she swore out a warrant for his arrest and then saw a constable take him to jail in default of bail.

Weather Probabilities.

For this section partly cloudy and warmer tonight. Saturday fair; light to fresh southerly, shifting to westerly winds.

Political Meeting.

A mass meeting will be held at the Opera House tonight at which Senator Thomas S. Martin and Delegate J. R. Caton will make addresses. The galleries will be reserved for ladies and a brass band will discourse music. A large attendance is expected.

School Board.

A regular meeting of the City School Board was held last night at which there were present Capt. Herbert Bryant, chairman; Messrs. Thompson, Yates, Stabler, Ramsay, Thomson, Carne, Carter, Dr. Smith and the Superintendent. This being the meeting for the election of officers, Capt. Herbert Bryant was unanimously re-elected chairman, and Mr. Hubert Snowden clerk.

Mr. Stabler, from the committee on schoolhouses and furniture, reported that the furnaces in Washington building were out of order again and that the attention of the man who last repaired them had been called to the fact; that slight repairs had been made to the roof of the old Academy building and that the furniture in one of the second-story rooms in Hallowell building had been removed to a room on the first floor which was now being used as a school room. His report was received and accepted.

Mr. Carne, from the committee on studies and discipline, reported, on the motion of Mr. Yates, to hold the teachers' meetings on Friday evenings instead of Saturday mornings, recommending that the matter be left with the Superintendent, but opposing the closing of the schools one-half day on Friday, should the meetings be held on Friday evenings. The report was received and adopted.

Several bills for supplies and repairs were ordered to be paid.

The Superintendent reported that the schools were in successful operation and that two of the teachers had been absent from school one day each last month. He also stated that in answer to questions, he had informed the schools that holiday would not be given on the Friday after Thanksgiving Day. This was acquiesced in by the board.

Mr. Stabler stated that complaint had been made of the uncleanly condition of the east sidewalk of Peabody building and called the attention of the janitor to this matter. The latter replied that the pavements were swept regularly once a day.

Mr. Thomson asked what the committee had done who were appointed to wait on Council to ask for a special appropriation and Dr. Smith, chairman of the committee, facetiously asked if Mr. Thomson wished to know if the special committee had done any more in that direction than had Mr. Thomson's committee. He said, however, he would be glad to meet the special committee on the evening of the next meeting of the City Council.

Mr. Yates said he had seen it stated in the newspapers that interesting educational meetings were being held in the counties and asked if some such meetings could not be held in Alexandria.

The Superintendent replied that Mr. Maphis, the examiner for this district, had stated that he was coming to this neighborhood and expected to visit Alexandria, but that he had heard nothing further from him. He said, however, that such meetings were not so necessary in cities where the teachers met daily, as they were in the counties; he had attended one of the county meetings and found that not one of the speakers advertised to make addresses was present and that only such speakers as could be hurriedly secured had to take their places. He promised to take the matter up, however, and consult with the teachers concerning educational meetings.

Dr. Smith suggested that a educational meeting would be held at the Opera House tonight (referring to the political meeting at which Senator Martin is to speak). The meeting then adjourned.

Temperance Rally.

Perseverance Tent, No. 1098, of Rechbites, at its meeting last Monday night appointed the following committee of arrangements for the big temperance rally to be held in the Baptist Church on Sunday, November 26: W. L. Griffin, chairman; Mrs. L. W. Huffman, W. P Ward, L. D. Lyles, Miss Ordell Ward, Mrs. Sarah Lyles, Jas. B. Hughes, Mrs. Margaret Hughes, John A. Cogan, T. F. Johnson, J. F. Glover, Capt. J. P. Woody, Miss Eva Johnson, Miss Susie Johnson, Jno. Bartlett, Chas. Pierpoint, Mrs. Susie Griffin, Mrs. William Owens and E. L. Naylor. While this service will be held under the auspices of Perseverance Tent, No. 1098, I. O. R., it will really be a union temperance rally and speakers of prominence from a distance will be present. The music will be an especially attractive feature of the service, being under the direction of Mr. William Owens. The above named committee will meet at the residence of Mrs. L. W. Huffman, 414 Franklin street, this (Friday) evening at 7:30 o'clock.

Police Court.

[Justice H. B. Caton presiding.]

The following cases were disposed of this morning.

George Leonard, arrested by Officer Nicholson charged with stealing a pair of pantaloons from Swan Brothers, was fined $10.

Cameron Run Hounds.

The Cameron Run hounds will meet during November, at the Kennels, near this city on Wednesdays, at 10 a. m., on Saturdays, at 2 p. m. Mr. Chas. R. Hooff, jr., is M. F. H. and Mr. Paul V. Portner, Secretary.

Benefit Paid.

The officers of Alexandria Council, Royal Arcanun, have paid to Mr. L. H. Machen, guardian of James Douglas McLean, son of the late Donald McLean, the sum of $3,000, the full amount of the benefit held in that order by the deceased.

Fined for Indecent Conduct.

A case was before the Police Court this morning which shows how some human beings are prone to mar the image of the Creator. A woman living on north Lee street had been arrested by Officer Beach on a charge by which she would have incurred the penalty of being stoned to death under the Pentateuch. The details were revolting. The accused was fined $10. There were, it is said, some male spectators to the debauchery implied above, and such specimens of the race are as much to be loathed as the depraved woman who is drinking the lowest dregs of her degradation. The above incident is an illustration of the bestiality of some members of the human race, and shows that vicious tastes from Sodom, Gomarrah and Egypt have been handed down to the present generation.

Cautious After Dark.

The recent highway robberies in this city and vicinity have caused most people to be on the alert in traversing the streets of the city after dark. A gentleman living in the Fourth ward was on his way home last night when a strange man suddenly appeared before him and asked him the time. The gentleman refused to pull out his watch and passed on. There is every reason to believe that the stranger intended to grasp the time-piece and run off. This morning a young man was stopping people and soliciting money. He told those he accosted that he was a mechanic, member of a union, &c. The police should make efforts to rid the city of such people, as there is at present work for all at one thing or another.

Death of Maj. Newby.

A dispatch was received in this city this morning announcing the death at Winnemucca, Nevada, yesterday, of Maj. Henry W. Newby, who was the city engineer of that place. Maj. Newby was a native of Fauquier county, but came here when a young man. He was major of the battalion of St John's Academy cadets and an instructor of that institution. Later he was chosen city surveyor of Alexandria. Several years ago he left Alexandria for the west, where he had been engaged in engineering work. He married Miss Sallie English, a daughter of the late Zeph English, of this city, who, with a daughter, Miss Georgia Newby, survives him. Maj. Newby had a large circle of friends in Alexandria, who will regret to learn of his death.

Boys' Strike.

About a dozen of the boys employed at one of the glass works of this city have struck for higher wages. They have been receiving from $3 to $5 per week, according to their proficiency. Imitating some of their seniors, it is said that they have threatened to stone other youths who refused to go out with them. The boys employed in the glass works are on duty part of the night, and trouble is anticipated by those who remain at work, they believing that it is the intention of the strikers to ambush them as they go to and return from the factory after dark.

Personal.

Mrs. Eva G. Mushbach left the city yesterday for Pittsburg to visit relatives.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert F. Downham have returned from their bridal trip through the North.

Mr. and Mrs. William O. Tomlin have issued invitations to the marriage of their daughter, Miss Grace Trueman Tomlin, to Mr. William Bertram Dobie. The ceremony will take place Wednesday evening, the 15th inst., at the residence of the bride-elect, 308 south Fairfax street.

Dr. Walter A. Warfield reached his home today from the University of the South, at Sewanee, Tenn., where last week he received his degree of Doctor of Medicine. Dr. Alfred Kelley, of Delaware, will be Dr. Warfield's guest for the next few days.

Senator Thomas S. Martin reached this city this evening from Richmond and will speak at the democratic meeting tonight. He was called upon by a number of his friends, to whom he expressed confidence in next Tuesday's election.

Proposed New Road.

Engineers of the Quartermaster's Department of the army are engaged in surveying a new road from Washington to the national cemetery at Arlington, which would afford a shorter and less crowded route than the present way over Aqueduct bridge. Congress at its next session will be asked to make the necessary appropriation. In anticipation of the building of the Memorial bridge, the construction of a new road has been long delayed, but the Memorial bridge seems so decidedly in the future that Quartermaster General Humphrey has taken action. The proposed route will cross the speedway and the new bridge across the Potomac, will then swerve to the right over the experimental farm of the Department of Agriculture, and enter the national cemetery at the McClellan gate.

Real Estate Sale.

M. B. Harlow & Co., real estate, loan and insurance brokers, have sold for Theodore C. Keen to Fred L. Wagar premises No. 113 and 115 south Lee street. It is understood that the purchaser will, in the near future, convert the buildings into apartments which will be offered at a rental not exceeding $12.50 per month each, which will afford persons of moderate means an opportunity to secure apartments at reasonable rates.

Running Regularly.

The new ferry steamer Woodbury is now running regularly on schedule time between this city and Washington, leaving here on the hour and Washington on the half hour. The steamer is being well patronized by passengers and the owners of teams. The machinery of the boat is now in good working order and everything connected with her is proving satisfactory.

Deaths.

Lewis Matton, a native of Maryland, died at the Alexandria Hospital yesterday. The deceased was 34 years old. He was a contracting carpenter by occupation. His remains will be forwarded to Fort Washington Sunday morning by Mr. R. Wheatley.

Marion, the eight-year-old daughter of Mr. Thomas Cleveland, died in Washington yesterday. The remains will be brought to this city for interment.

Mr. Tyler W. Lynn and Miss Effie D. Holmes, both of Prince William county, were married in Washington yesterday.

LOCAL BREVITIES.

Wash Jones, colored, who lives at No. 515 south Alfred street, was stricken with paralysis today, and was sent to the Alexandria Hospital for treatment.

A meeting of the fire wardens was held at the Reliance engine house last night, when some bills were audited and a discussion was had as to some rules to be formulated for the government of the department. No definite action was taken.

The electric train which left Washington at 6:30 last night was unexpectedly confronted by a steam train at Cameron and Fayette streets, and there was some excitement among the passengers on the trolley cars. No watchman is stationed at this intersection at present, although freight trains are still moved night and day on Fayette street.

The barge Blanchard, loaded with lumber by Smoot & Co. for Indian Head, has departed.

Should the weather be fair the athletic games at the Episcopal High School will be held tomorrow.

The work of rebuilding the seawall around the Potomac Park along its harbor side, at Washington, under the direction of the officials of the United States army engineer's office in charge of the improvements on the Potomac, has been stopped for the winter.

A warrant was issued by J. W. Wormly, U. S. Commissioner at Fort Myer, for arrest of J. A. Bloons for assault on J. Josselson, on the government reservation. Bloons was arrested by Joseph F. Glover, Deputy U. S. Marshal, yesterday and taken before Commissioner Wormly who dismissed the case for want of sufficent evidence.

A Long Ticket.

The ballot to be used at next Tuesday's election will be an unusually long one and will no doubt prove confusing to many voters. It will contain many names. In this city for instance on the ticket will be two names for each of the following offices: Governor, Lieutenant-Governor, Attorney General, State Treasurer, Commissioner of Agriculture, Superintendent of Public Instruction, Secretary of the Commonwealth and Member of the House of Delegates. Besides these the candidate for Clerk of Court and all the candidates for city offices voted for at the May primary are to be voted for.

Divorced.

In the Corporation Court today in the suit of Nellie S. Darling vs. Charles Darling Judge Barley entered a decree granting the plaintiff a divorce and giving her the custody of her child.

The Massacred Missionaries.

London, Nov. 3.—The correspondent of the Evening Star at Hong Kong wires that American, French and Chinese gunboats have started up the river toward the scene of the recent massacre of American missionaries at Lienchau.

The murder of the missionaries was committed during a sudden uprising on the part of the Chinese following a request made by Dr. Machle, one of the medical missionaries, that a street theatre should be removed from the vicinity of the hospital on account of the noise. The frenzied mob of Chinese attacked the hospital, schools, and the mission dwellings, burning them to the ground. In the student's instruction room the mob seized a skeleton and carried it at the head of a procession about the town as an example of the way foreigners treat the Chinese.

Dr. Machle, Mrs. Machle and their daughter, Dr. Chesnut, Miss Patterson and Mr. and Mrs. Peale, took refuge in a cave, but the mob pursued them and killed all but Miss Patterson and Dr. Machle, who escaped to the Yamen. Dr. Machle was badly injured in trying to get away. Catholic converts in the region are alarmed and they have sent an appeal to Bishop Merle asking him to petition the viceroy to protect the French missions.

TELEGRAPHIC BREVITIES.

Fire, believed to have been started by an incendiary, caused a loss of $15,000 on the farm of William Valentine, near Wilmington, Del., this morning. The blaze started in the barn and consumed that and the outbuildings. The dwelling house was badly damaged.

Evidently the same burglars who robbed the Sanborn, Ind., bank of $4,400 yesterday, made an unsuccessful attempt this morning to rob the National Bank at Oden, a town within 15 miles of Sanborn, Ind. The cracksmen were at work when Jacob Shield, a citizen happened along. Two of the four burglars sprang upon him bound and gagged him, and left him on the sidewalk in front of the bank. A shot of nitro-glycerine was fired forcing open the two doors to the safe, blowing the bottom loose. The third door, leading to a vault containing $6,000 did not yield, and the burglars became frightened, and ran away after robbing Shields of $16.

John C. Hasbrouck, jr., of Baltimore, who is in New York with his father and mother, fell under a trolley car at Fifty-ninth street and Columbus avenue, at 4 o'clock this morning, and his right foot was badly crushed. Young Hasbrouck with friends was standing at 59th street, waiting for a car, when a "dead car" with a trailer, came along. Hasbrouck not seeing that the first car was taking no passengers, started to board the car, while it was running at full speed. He slipped from the rear platform, and fell, his right foot falling under the wheels of the rear car.

Alvin M. Craig, president of the Craig Rolling Mills Company, of New Haven, Conn., and a wealthy citizen, called on the police last night to intercept his daughter, Miss Ethel Craig, aged 22, who has eloped with Victor A. Smitherman, coachman for the family. This morning, however, he had decided to make no further effort to capture either Smitherman or his daughter.

Thanksgiving Proclamation.

The President has issued his proclamation naming Thursday, November 30 next, as a day for thanksgiving. He says:

"When nearly three centuries ago the first settlers came to the country which has now become this great republic, they fronted not only hardships and privations, but terrible risk to their lives. In those grim years the custom grew of setting apart one day in each year for a special service of thanksgiving to the Almighty for preserving the people through the changing seasons. The custom has now become national and hallowed by immemorial usage.

"We live in easier and more plentiful times than our forefathers, the men who with rugged strength faced the rugged days; and yet the dangers to national life are as great now as at any previous time in our history. It is eminently fitting that once a year our people should set apart a day for praise and thanksgiving to the Giver of good, and, at the same time, that they express their thankfulness for the abundant mercies received, should manfully acknowledge their shortcomings and pledge themselves solemnly and in good faith to strive to overcome them.

"During the past year we have been blessed with bountiful crops. Our business prosperity has been great. No people has ever stood on as high a level of material well-being as ours now stands. We are not threatened by foes from without. The foes from whom we should pray to be delivered are our own passions, appetites and follies; and against these there is always need that we should war.

"Therefore, I now set apart Thursday, the 30th day of this November, as a day of thanksgiving for the past and of prayer for the future, and on that day I ask that throughout the land the people gather in their homes and places of worship and, in rendering thanks unto the Most High for the manifold blessings of the past year, consecrate themselves to a life of cleanliness, honor and wisdom, so that this nation may do its allotted work on the earth in a manner worthy of those who founded it and of those who preserved it."

Elopers Bind and Gag Stepfather.

Bound and gagged by his two stepdaughters and their prospective husbands and left helpless for seven hours until released by his dog, was the story told to the Racine, Wis., authorities Monday by Gustav Kabedger, a farmer, living four miles northwest of that city. Kabedger swore out warrants for the arrest of the elopers. He says the men seized and bound him with ropes and gagged him with a handkerchief, being assisted by his stepdaughters, 16 and 18 years old, who accompanied the men. Kabedger declares that his dog entered the room seven hours afterward and bit through the cords that bound his wrists. He then released himself and drove to the city to see the authorities. The rope marks were plainly visible on Kabedger's wrists.

Francis A. Apperson, 68 years old, and his wife Selina, 48 years old, were asphyxiated by illuminating gas in a two room apartment occupied by them on the second floor of the house at 47 south Twelfth street Newark, N. J., this morning.

Saved by Dynamite.

Sometimes, a flaming city is saved by dynamiting a space that the fire can't cross. Sometimes, a cough hangs on so long, you feel as if nothing but dynamite would cure it. Z. T. Gray, of Calhoun, Ga., writes: "My wife had a very aggravated cough, which kept her awake nights. Two physicians could not help her; so she took Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, Coughs and Colds, which eased her cough, gave her sleep, and finally cured her." Strictly scientific cure for bronchitis and La Grippe. At E. S. Leadbeater & Sons' drug store, price 50c and $1.00; guaranteed. Trial bottle free.

Swallowed Table Knives For Fun.

The glass eaters, iron chewers and all other classes of "human ostriches" are well known to the frequenters of dime museums and side shows, but it is seldom that we see, read or hear of a man who swallows indigestibles of extraordinary size just for the novelty of the thing. Such a man, however, was John Cummings, whose history is given in extended notices in the medical and surgical annals of Boston. He watched a French sword swallower one day and immediately after attempted a similar feat with a common table knife. The knife accidentally slipped down his throat, and a few days later, it having given him no inconvenience, he repeated the experiment. Both of these exploits took place at Havre de Grace, France. On his return to Boston he boasted of the feat and upon being bantered repeated the dose again and again. During the following ten years he swallowed in all thirty-five knives and forks, finally dying in terrible agony. He died in 1809.

Grim Story of Napoleon.

A grim story of Napoleon is told by Christian Waas in a Frankfort review under the title of "Napoleon at Yafa." A great number of the soldiers were down with the plague, and one day Bonaparte sent for his chief surgeon, Larrey. "If I were you," he said to him, "I should put our plague patients out of their misery. It would save them from having recourse to opium to soothe them." "But my duty is to make them live," replied Larrey. Bonaparte then revealed the grim truth. He and his staff were reduced to traveling on foot because the horses were all being used for the transportation of the sick. He must therefore either abandon the plague stricken to the cruelty of the enemy or get rid of them. Mr. Waas maintains that the order was carried out accordingly. There is an end, observes the Journal des Debats, to the illusion of the famous picture in the Louvre of "Bonaparte Visiting the Plague Stricken Soldiers at Yafa."

A Dramatic Scene.

The most dramatic scene ever witnessed in Westminster hall was that trial in Henry VIII.'s reign when 480 men and 11 women appeared before the king and some of his great nobles with ropes around their necks on a charge of being concerned in the rising of the prentices on the previous May day. Fortunately they had good friends in three queens—Katherine, Mary of France and Margaret of Scotland—who begged for their pardon on their knees, and when Henry at last yielded to such supplications the prisoners, it is said, "gave a mighty shout for joy, throwing their halters toward the top of the hall." The stage has never produced anything to rival that dramatic moment.—London Graphic.

Two Stories.

Several years ago, soon after "Treasure Island" had appeared and attracted public attention to Mr. Stevenson, two gentlemen were traveling up to London from Norfolk. One of them was reading "Treasure Island." Presently, having finished the book, he dropped it into his traveling bag, remarking, "Well, I think I could myself write a better child's story than that." The other, who, by the way, was his brother, urged him to try. Six weeks afterward the former handed to the latter a complete tale in manuscript. It was "King Solomon's Mines," the first novel that made a reputation for Rider Haggard.—London Queen.

We Usually Find Our Level.

Do not hypnotize yourself with the idea that you are being kept down. Do not talk such nonsense. Nobody of any sense would believe it. People will only laugh at you. Only one thing is keeping you down, and that is yourself. There is probably some trouble somewhere with you. Of course there are employers who are unjust to their help, there are instances in which employees are kept back when they should be advanced; but, as a rule, this is only temporary, and they usually find their level somewhere.—Success Magazine.

Flattery Wins.

Woman of the House (scrutinizing him sharply)—I believe you are the same worthless vagabond that was here last week begging for something to eat. Saymold Storey—Yes'm, I'm the feller. The cold b'iled ham I got here wuz the best I ever ett, an' I couldn't resist the temptation to come ag'in. That's why. Thanky, ma'am.—Chicago Tribune.

Her Dear Friend.

"What nonsense all this is about men getting on their knees when they propose," said Mrs. Parslow to her dear friend. "My husband didn't do any such absurd thing when he asked me to marry him."

"He did when he proposed to me," said the dear friend without thinking.

Too Costly.

"According to this paper," said Mrs. Naggs, "widows make the best wives."

"I don't doubt it, my dear," replied Naggs, "but nevertheless I don't feel justified in shuffling off at the present moment merely for the sake of making a good wife of you."

Cheering Suggestion.

Cobbs—To tell you the truth, I don't think my wife cares very much for me. Dobbs—Well, cheer up, old man. You can at least be proud of her good sense. —Detroit Tribune.

Not Complaining.

Belle—I think he has lost his heart. May—Well, he is an extremely cheerful loser.

A Liquid Cold Cure.

A Cough Syrup which drives a cold out of the system by acting as a cathartic on the bowels is offered in Kennedy's Laxative Honey and Tar. Clears the throat, strengthens the lungs and bronchial tubes. The mother's friend and the children's favorite. Best for Croup, Whooping-Cough, etc. A liquid cold cure and the only Cough Syrup which moves the bowels and works all cold out of the system. Sold by W. F. Creighton & Co., 401 King street.

Cross Eyed Angels.

Near the village of Monterey, Mass., in the heart of the Berkshires, on a knoll peculiarly well fashioned by nature for its uses, is a burying ground of the Revolutionary period which possesses more than ordinary interest by reason of its well preserved headstones. These headstones were cut from a native stone which has endured the elements so well for more than a hundred years that the inscriptions are now almost as easily read as they were when the stones were set in position. A striking peculiarity is found in the carvings on the headstones, apparently all the work of one sculptor, who had a specialty in the creation of cross eyed angels. Almost every one of the old headstones is ornamented at the top with the head of an angel, and each angel face is unmistakably and painfully cross eyed. This characteristic has led some guests near the burying ground to call it the "cemetery of cross eyed angels."—New York Tribune.

Cooking Fish In Clay.

"The natives of the north woods have more appetizing ways to cook fish than any other class of cooks in the world, I believe," said a Tomah man.

"The universal favorite, however, seems to be the clay method. The fish is wrapped in the clay without having so much as a scale ruffled by the cleaning knife. He is not dressed, and the only seasoning is a pinch of salt placed in the mouth. When the fish is done up in the clay the package is placed in the embers of the campfire to bake. When it is done the clay is cracked open, and the scales of the fish are found to be sticking in the clay, and the head is then broken off. The delicate flavor of a fish cooked in this way cannot be described. Some of the cooks have a habit of cutting a long gash along each side of the dorsal fin and inserting a slice of fat bacon. This adds greatly to the flavor of the fish."—Milwaukee Sentinel.

A Strange Thunderstorm.

It was a strange thunderstorm that struck Suffolk, England, Aug. 4, 1577. According to Holinshed, the tempest of lightning came through the wall of Bliborough church and went a yard into the ground, knocking over twenty people and killing two. Then it came up again, mounted the steeple by way of the vestry door, broke the bells and darted off to Bungay, six miles distant. There, according to another chronicler, it became a fiery black dog, which dashed between two people kneeling in church and broke their necks and clawed another man on the back so that he was "presently drawn together and shrunk up, as it were, a piece of leather scorched in a hot fire." Claw marks remained on the door to prove the reality of the black dog.

Old Time Advice to Travelers.

Edward Leigh's "Hints For Travelers" was published at the end of the sixteenth century. Only those who speak Latin should travel, he says, and every one should be well grounded "in the true religion" lest he be perverted abroad. Travelers should know their own country before being allowed to leave it. Before his voyage the traveler "should make his peace with God, receive the Lord's supper, satisfy his creditors if he be in debt, pray earnestly to God to prosper him on his voyage and to keep him from danger, and he should make his last will and wisely order all his affairs, since many that go abroad return not home."

The Word "London."

What is the derivation of the word "London?" The usually accepted one is the Celtic "Llyn-Din," or lake city, referring to the historical fact that the city was built on a river that overflowed at full tide and half surrounded it. Other philologists have derived it from "llawn" (full) and "dyn" (man), others again from "lon" (a plain) and "dun" (a hill). But the derivation Lun-Den, or "grove city," seems more probable than most of these. The name occurs in wooded parts of Scandinavia to this day.

The Reigning Princess.

Every girl who has married and moved to another town learns in course of time how it feels to be a monarch who is deprived of his kingdom. She is a princess before marriage and has the front room upstairs. She marries, moves away, her sister next in years becomes the reigning monarch, and when the married woman returns home on a visit some years later she finds herself relegated to a back bedroom, with her sister, the princess, on a throne in the front room.—Atchison Globe.

The Queer Part.

"Mary," said a Kansas City (Kan.) man to his wife recently, "I had a queer dream last night. I dreamed you had a pair of wings St. Peter had just given you and I was trying to fit them on you. Wasn't it queer that your wings didn't fit you?" "Yes," she replied, "but that wasn't the queerest part of it." "What was?" "The fact that you were there," she replied.—Kansas City Times.

Nature Needs But Little.

Nature needs only a Little Early Riser now and then to keep the bowels clean, the liver active, and the system free from bile, headaches, constipation, etc. The famous little pills "Early Risers" are pleasant in effect and perfect in action. They never gripe or sicken, but tone and strengthen the liver and kidneys. Sold by W. F. Creighton & Co., 401 King street.

A Creeping Death.

Blood poison creeps up towards the heart, causing death. J. E Stearns, Belle Plaine, Minn., writes that a friend dreadfully injured his hand, which swelled up like blood poisoning. Bucklen's Arnica Salve drew out the poison, healed the wound, and save his life. Best in the world for burns and sores. 25c at E. S. Leadbeater & Sons' drug store.

When you want a pleasant physic try Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets. They are easy to take and produce no griping or no unpleasant effect. Sold by Gibson & Timberman and W. F. Creighton & Co.
